IV. How We Share Your Data

We share your Personal Data, sometimes combined with Non-Personal Data, in a variety of ways including, but not limited to the below:

- Share data with third parties to fulfill service requests and to perform business functions (e.g., the ACMI contracts with third parties to provide services on our behalf such as billing, data hosting services; packaging, mailing and delivering services; customer support and consulting services; and meeting services).
- Share data with third parties as required by law or to protect the ACMI in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) conform to legal requirements or comply with legal process served on the ACMI; (b) protect and defend the ACMI's rights or property; or (c) protect the personal safety of ACMI personnel or members of the public in appropriate circumstances.
- Share data with third parties if the ACMI and/or its assets (or a portion of its assets) are sold, assigned, transferred, or merged, or if the ACMI undergoes some other change including a change to its corporate form as part of a bankruptcy proceeding or otherwise; information may be transferred as part of that transaction or change.
- Share data with third parties under other unanticipated situations, but only with your consent.
- Share your email address, but only as permitted by the ACMI Email Policy, as follows:

Your email address will be used only by the ACMI, its entities and ACMI vendors performing member services, or offering products on ACMI's behalf. ACMI does not sell or rent email addresses to anyone outside the ACMI, nor does the ACMI share email addresses to unrelated third-parties, affiliates, or ACMI members. Please understand, however, that in such cases, your email address may be visible to other members, others who have interest in the art materials industry and ACMI events, as well as the public through ACMI membership directories, membership lists and registration lists. The ACMI also shares your email address with third parties to enable the ACMI to take security measures to help protect against unauthorized access to or unauthorized alteration, disclosure, or destruction of data. Finally, the ACMI shares email addresses with third parties as necessary for the ACMI to perform certain services on our behalf, such as packaging, mailing and delivering products and processing meeting registrations and to respond to your service requests.

VI. Canada Anti-Spam Law

ACMI complies with the Canada Anti-Spam Law. Non-ACMI members or associates who provide us a Canadian mailing address will not receive unauthorized Commercial Electronic Messages (as defined under the Canada Anti-Spam Law) unless these individuals have “opted-in” to receive Commercial Electronic Messages.

VII. Children

We do not knowingly collect Personal Data from or market to children under the age of 13.

VIII. How We Protect Personal Data

ACMI implements commercially reasonable security measures to help protect against unauthorized access to or unauthorized alteration, disclosure, or destruction of data. Except for membership directories, membership lists and registration lists, and the sharing of information as set forth in this Privacy Policy, we restrict access to Personal Data to certain companies who need the data to operate, develop, or improve our services. These individuals or partner organizations are bound by confidentiality obligations and may be subject to discipline, including termination and criminal prosecution, if they fail to meet these obligations.

Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet or electronic storage is fully secure. Accordingly, and despite our reasonable efforts to protect your Personal Data from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure, ACMI cannot guarantee or warrant the security of the Personal Data you transmit to us, or to or from our online Sites. If you have questions about this Privacy Policy, please contact us.

IX. User ID and Password

Certain areas of the Sites require the use of a user ID, email address, or password as an additional security measure that helps protect your Personal Data. To help you protect your privacy, these Sites have tools to help you log in and log out.

X. Linking to Other Internet Sites

You should be aware that other Internet sites that are linked from the Sites or from an ACMI email message may contain privacy provisions that differ from the provisions of this Privacy Policy. To ensure your privacy is protected, we recommend that you review the privacy statements of these other linked sites, applications, or other digital platforms.

XI. How You Can Access, Change and Delete Your Personal Data

We rely on you to update and correct your Personal Data. If you are a user of our Sites, or an ACMI member or licensee, you can review, update and correct your information directly on ACMI's website or by contacting us using the information in the "Contact Information" section below. Typically, we retain your Personal Data for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy, unless a longer retention period is required or permitted by law. This may include retaining your Personal Data indefinitely, even after you are no longer an ACMI member, in order to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, or enforce any of our agreements. Please note that you can request, at any time, that we delete your Personal Data. All requests must be directed to the contact in the "Contact Information" section below. We can decide to delete your Personal Data if we believe that the data is incomplete, inaccurate, or that our continued use and storage are contrary to our obligations to other members, individuals, or third parties. When we delete your Personal Data, it will be removed from our Sites, but the data may remain in our archives if the ACMI determines that it is not practical or possible to delete it.

XII. Cookies and Other Web Devices

Our website sends cookies (e.g., pieces of code or text placed on your computer by us or third-parties when you browse our Sites) to your web browser (if your browser's preferences allow it) to collect data when you browse our Sites. Cookie settings can be controlled in your Internet browser to automatically reject some forms of cookies. If you view our website without changing your cookie settings, you are indicating your consent to receive all cookies from our Sites. If you do not allow cookies, some features and functionality of our Sites may not operate as expected. In addition to cookies, we place technological tools (and allow certain third parties to place technological tools) such as tags and beacons (e.g., code scripts that are primarily used to track visitors' activities on our Sites by web analytics software), Internet Protocol (IP) addresses, and other tools, to collect your data for the purposes listed in this Privacy Policy.

XIII. Transmission of Data to Other Countries

Your Personal Data is processed in the United States, where privacy laws may be less stringent than the laws in your country and where the government, courts, or law enforcement may be able to access your data.
